

eL-Horto Vocabulary (from 1973 - )

Just because I don't seem to remember the way I was born (lead-in) and as the man of mould doesn't have the habit of remembering their early passing away (although they might remain departed longer in this manner), so at the moment when stains of the bubbling divinencephalon in white splashed onto my silky forehead, my neon rumen started to phosphoresce as well, and all of a sudden the psychedelic lifexhalation (the prana of socium) flashed on the spokes of my karmamotor like recycled sunlight, the peristaltic motion of which reminded of the copulative motion of a mammary-cockroach running through the crimson eyeball of a ceasing life (lead out), well, at that moment it almost made me graveheartedly sorry that I was not able to provide a quasi-telepathic Revelation (apokalüpszisz) for the letter-licker plebs (obrazovancsina) even through a previous background-infection of the minds by the help of the ancestors.

Although, the educated mankind is seemingly like a big family, especially because it has exterminated the others.

For a Tagoreptilian it is always confusing how those damned earthly religions could survive so long, and how they managed to start at all.

It is possible that one day even She-He is becoming a religion, and then those mad homoscolopendras will kill people born in coloured water for Her-Him, or they will say anyway that it is for Her-His sake.

The encyclical letter of the dandruff-souled prophet, Cardinal Rohmayer (Lateran Software V.2.02.), declares that the first task on the new planets is to print a cathedral in 3D and then to raise tokamak bonfire for the humanoids.

Certainly, in olden times, the Jesusalien people never used to speak with their mouths but on Mondays, because those were the days when they were allowed to deepen their own graves by a shovelful, they used to dig bit by bit until they began to believe that one of them had become possessed by the Holy Spirit (kernel).

Afterwards they finished the person in question off with those special chrome claws (monstrance) that they always used to carry on themselves in a neck wallet made of leather actually split from a yet unborn lamb (Agnuskin Dei) similarly to those Horto-Sea Scrolls on which the following Rosetta fragments were detected by the scanner of the Fomalhaut translation program:
